My News

Have you been having fun during lockdown? Well I have been very busy. Let me tell you all about what I've been up to this weekend…

First I recorded myself reading the story 'Owl Babies' because I'm missing all the children from Lister Infants so much that I wanted to make a video for them. Have you seen it on Twitter yet? (#watch this space). What a great story it is! I wonder what your favourite part will be? I love the part when the mum comes back at the end and Bill says, "I love my mummy!"

Next I decided to paint the garden fence because the weather was really sunny on Sunday. It took a long time but I had the radio playing so that helped to keep me motivated. As I was painting, I saw lots of birds called Goldfinches coming to eat the nuts in my garden. How hungry they are! I will have to keep filling the nuts up for them because they are eating them all so quickly.

Then after painting the fence, I had worked up quite an appetite so I had a lovely roast dinner with chicken, roast potatoes, carrot and turnip, broccoli and cauliflower. It was delicious! I cleared the plate and I even had chocolate cake – my favourite! What is your favourite dessert?

After that I decided to go for a little walk to get some exercise so I walked around the area by my house. I loved seeing all the pink blossom on the trees and looking at the beautiful flowers along the side of the road. The walk helped me feel better after having such a big dinner.

Finally it was time to relax so I sat on the couch with a lovely cup of tea. I watched some TV for a little bit before it was time for bed. I had a lovely weekend and my favourite part was seeing how good the fence looked when it was painted. Good job done.

Now can you tell me your news? I can't wait to read it.
