

This week Nursery retold the story called "We're Going on a Bear Hunt." The children helped to make the props for the story and then used the garden area to go on their bear hunt. Nursery were able to remember the order of events and were also able to chant the repeated phrases from the text.

This week Nursery have also been learning about the number five. Nursery have been able to take out five items from a group and check that they have taken out the correct amount by touch counting. Nursery have also been problem solving by finding out how many more they need to make five.

Nursery also used the musical instruments to learn this week's nursery rhyme called Jack and Jill. The children were able to sing the rhyme, clap the rhythm and use the instruments to play along to the nursery rhyme.

Jack and Jill

Jack & Jill went up the hill
